DC Concert Cancelled

The final night of three days of free rock concert was cancelled Saturday night following a disturbance touched off when some 1,000 ticketholders were turned back at the entrance to the Cow Palace in Daly City.

Police blamed over-promotion of the event by a chain of northern California stereo stores for the fracas which saw some 20 persons, mostly teen-agers, arrested on charges including resisting arrest, drunkenness, disturbing the peace and malicious mischief.

There were no serious injuries reported, but about a dozen police received cuts and bruises when hit by bottles, stones and sticks thrown by the unruly mob, a spokesman said.

At the height of the disturbance some 150 police from Daly City, San Francisco and the San Mateo County Sheriff's Office were called to the scene.

There had been indications the Saturday night crowd might become hard to handle following a near-riot Friday night when some 25,000 ticketholders showed up for the concert and only 18,000 were allowed inside to listen to such groups as the Quicksilver Messenger Service and other hard rock groups.

Police said there was "a lot of growling and a few doors shaken" Friday night, but nothing serious.

Saturday night the lid came off when more than 4,000 persons were barred from the show sponsored by Pacific Stereo stores.

Pacific Stereo has some 40 stores in the northern California area. Police said an estimated 160,000 free tickets were given out for the rock concert.

A police spokesman said most of the 4,000 persons that could not enter the building dispersed, but "a large group" began breaking windows and trying to batter their way inside.

The maddened crowd descended on a police car, overturned it and tried to set it afire, a police spokesman said.

Both officers inside the vehicle managed to escape without injury.

They called for help and within minutes reinforcements wearing riot gear and led by police captain David Hansen arrived and began dispersing the crowd using Mace and clubs.

At 9:30 p.m., less than two hours after the disturbance erupted, sponsors of the concert called off the remainder of the entertainment, apparently at the request of police.

Inside the Cow Palace the capacity crowd of 18,000 listened to the Marin Symphony Orchestra playing Tchaikovsky's "1812 Overture."

Jan Wright, a spokeswoman for the sponsors, was reported as saying those inside were unaware of the events going on outside.

When the event was called off and the audience inside left the building they were "caught in the middle" between police and rioters, a witness said.

MERCY HIGH SCHOOL student Jean Gerhardt, 16, has been named queen of the Broadmoor 25th anniversary parade and carnival. She will appear at the carnival Oct. 13 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Broadmoor Community Center in Colma, then ride in the parade down 87th Ave. Guest announcer at the event will be Bob Lobertini, San Francisco television weatherman.

Authorities Probe D.C. Man Shooting

Local authorities were still perplexed yesterday over the death of a 28-year-old Daly City man who had been shot and apparently thrown over the side of Sharp Park Road in Pacifica.

The body was found about 22 feet from the edge of the road, eastbound on the first turn of the curvy road, by cement truck driver Louis Rebagliati of San Francisco shortly after 8 a.m. Friday.

The coroner's office reported finding a bullet hole in the skull of a man identified as Anthony Joseph Long, 10 Northridge, Daly City.

The victim was dressed in maroon pants, purple shirt, lavender tie and blue sports jacket. He had no identification or other valuables on his person, police said.

An appeal has been issued for any information. Pacifica Police Sgt. Richard Hillman is investigating the case.

The victim's father, Winfred Long, of 33 Lodi Ave., San Mateo, identified the body, officials said.

According to the coroner, the victim had been dead for eight to 12 hours.

Long worked in the clerical department of the General Steamship Company in San Francisco.

Mideast War Worries Local Families

By JACK BIK

Outbreak of war in the Mideast has left many families in Northern San Mateo County worried.

A number of local young people have been staying in kibbutzim & communal farm settlements — working on the behalf of Israel for their room and board. Some, including non-Jews, have been touring Europe and Asia and are caught up in the current hostilities.

Emergency religious services were held Tuesday night. Conservative Jews joined with Rabbi Sheldon Edwards at Congregation B'nai Israel in Daly City. Rabbi Gerald Raikin of Burlingame's Temple Shalom led services jointly with Rabbi Sanford Rosen at San Mateo's Temple Beth El, for local Reform Jews. They prayed for the dead and the injured, and for a quick end to hostilities. Renewed Mideast fighting which broke out early Saturday, caught local rabbis by surprise; in fact they mentioned the war only briefly in their prepared Yom Kippur sermons. Yom Kippur, the most solemn Jewish holiday, was even more solemn than ever last Saturday at packed services at B'nai Israel and Temple Shalom.

A Millbrae woman, Mrs. Max Ehrlich, was probably one of the first persons on the Peninsula to learn of the outbreak of war. She received a telephone call at about 6 a.m. Saturday from her 23-year-old daughter Elvira, a CSM graduate.

Her daughter is staying at Tel Katim, a small, 60-member kibbutz south of the Sea of Galilee, near the Holy Land. Helen had accompanied her mother and father, Dr. Martin Kohn, and the last Project Hope voyage to Brazil. She had attended Menlo

'Discrepancies' In JESD

Lawyer Fee Denied

The county schools office has refused to approve payment of fees to a special counsel hired by the Jefferson Elementary School District in connection with the recent firing of the district superintendent and one of his aides, Board of Trustees Chairwoman Dorothy Adams announced at a board meeting last Wednesday.

Mrs. Adams said the board received a letter from the county office stating approximately $8,000 in attorney fees payable to William Johnston would not be authorized because of discrepancies in the contract between the attorney and the district. The discrepancies were not specified.

According to Mrs. Adams, the district retained Johnston, an Oakland attorney who specializes in education. July 18, a week after rescinding the contracts of Supt. Frank L. Greenwood and Assistant Supt. Roger Barthuli. The contract was sent to the district attorney's office for review, and returned to the district, with indications the contract was satisfactory.

Mrs. Adams said the county office approved the first fee installment to Johnston, but now refuses to authorize the second and third installments.

"I was under the impression this whole contract t was settled before. Now we get a letter stating payments will not be made," Mrs. Adams declared.

"I would like to know why this man is not being paid, and would like to get some specific direction from the counsel in the county office so I know where we stand."

The chairman asked the acting superintendent, Keith Breon, to look into the matter.

Upon termination of his contract by trustees who claimed he was not carrying out policy of the board, Greenwood attempted to fight in court to win back his job. Two weeks ago he accepted a $20,000 settlement.

On the other hand, Barthuli, who is also fighting to regain his job, has refused, according to Mrs. Adams to accept an out-of-court settlement of $25,000.

Berthuli Case Goes To Trial

Unhappy with an unspecified settlement offer, Roger Barthuli, fired as associate superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District in Daly City, took the Board of Trustees to trial yesterday.

The case was assigned to Superior Court Judge Robert E. Carey in Redwood City.

Barthuli and Supt. Frank Greenwood were fired last summer by a split vote of the trustees.

Greenwood earlier settled his case after trial opened before Superior Court Judge Melvin E. Cohn. Barthuli had Judge Cohn disqualified, without stated reason, for his trial.

Council Examines Project

'Gulch' Ravine Eroding

"Wildman's Gulch" seems to be living up to its name.

For the second time in less than three years the Daly City City Council is mulling what to do to curb erosion along the steep ravine west of Avalon Drive.

A section of storm piping washed out during heavy rains in 1970, and a contract was given to engineer Joseph Kaplan to replace the pipe.

Kaplan, after studying the steep terrain interlaced with deep canyons, decided to employ a helicopter to lift sections of pipe into place — the first time such a feat was performed successfully.

Cost of this contract amounted to some $25,000.

But unusually heavy rains last year again washed out the pipe, and now the city is faced with a decision to expend funds again to replace the damaged storm drain, or follow through with long-range relief by building an access road down the cliff face to the ocean.

This road would be used by maintenance crews to control erosion and would cost some $100,000, according to City Manager David Rowe.

Rowe said he has recommended to the council that Arthur "Buzz" Haskins be awarded the contract to construct the road.

He based his recommendations on a recent report prepared by Terratech, Inc., which disclosed continual erosion of the cliff face could result in disastrous consequences to homes in the area over the years.

Steps must be taken to stop this slippage and washouts immediately, Rowe said.

Rowe feels the first phase should be to repair the damaged pipeline.

The project would also include installation of 200 feet of "rip-rap" seawall — huge boulders dropped along the shoreline.

Even with these steps taken and the expenditure of funds for the project there were no guarantees erosion would be completely halted in the area, Rowe said.

If the city adopts a plan to stabilize the land in "Wildman's Gulch" it must go before the Central Coastline Commission (CCC) for approval before work can begin, it was explained.

With the rainy season already here, the city staff and building the access road off Avalon Drive. After looking at the terrain most decided not to undertake the job.

Only Haskins indicated he would take on the dangerous project, Macabe said.

fears erosion will increase and they have urged the council to take immediate action.

City engineer Dave Macabe

bee said he has approached several construction companies for estimates on repairs and building the access road off Avalon Drive. After looking at the terrain most decided not to undertake the job.

Local Tax Take Down

For the first time in the 20 years that County Tax Collector-Treasurer Ross Conti has been with the county, the amount to be collected in property taxes by San Mateo County will drop this year.

Conti, who announced today that 180,000 tax bills will go into the mail Oct. 12, reported that the county expects a total charge of $198,277,622, as compared with last year's take of $200,932,252.

The drop is due primarily to the increase in the amount of a homeowners' exemption from $750 to $1,750, Conti said.

It means the county will be raising less local taxes, with more funds coming from the state to make up the difference.

It also means that for a great number of local taxpayers their tax bills will be down from last year.

However, Conti said, for the owners of those 83,000 parcels which were reassessed this year at an average 10 per cent increase, the tax bill will go up, with the reassessment in many cases offsetting the homeowner's exemption.

The tax collector provided examples of the tax bill for a $40,000 home in the county's various cities which was not reassessed this year.

In Burlingame, the owner of a $40,000 home who paid a tax bill of $838.05 last year will have a bill of $732.60 this year, the lowest amount for any city.

In Daly City, on the other hand, the owner of a $40,000 home who paid a tax bill of $1,182.15 last year, will receive a bill of $1,002.37 this year, highest of any city in the county.

Tax Comparison

Here are figures prepared by Tax Collector-Treasurer Conti showing what the owner of a $40,000 home who receives the homeowner's exemption paid in taxes last year and what the comparative bill would be this year, with tax rates, which have dropped in all cities, with the exception of South San Francisco, where there is a 2-cent increase.

Conti emphasized that the figures are just examples and will vary because of assessments such as for street improvements and for bond retirement.

Conti said that taxpayers who pay their own taxes will receive an information card and a payment card. Property owners whose taxes are paid by a bank or savings and loan company will receive only the information card showing total assessed value, full cash value and taxes due on the property involved. The card also will list the distribution of tax dollars to various agencies, such as the county, the city, school districts and for assessments.

All taxpayers will receive a leaflet with their cards containing additional information concerning taxes.

The first installment of tax payment is due Nov. 1, and becomes delinquent Dec. 10. The second installment is due Feb. 1, and becomes delinquent April 10.

Conti noted that 90 per cent of the taxpayers wait until the week of delinquency to make their payments.

Woman Pleads Guilty To Charge

A woman who had worked as bookkeeper for Bergeson Electric Co. of South San Francisco for nine years pleaded guilty to embezzlement in South San Francisco Municipal Court Oct. 2.

Betty Mills, 44, was charged with four counts of embezzlement totalling $7,365, but she pleaded guilty to only one count, involving a $3,782 Bergeson Electric check which she allegedly issued to herself. The other counts were dismissed, according to Police Det. Miff Singleton.

At the same time, a civil suit has been filed against her by Bergeson Electric, alleging that she had taken more than $150,000.

According to Singleton, she was discharged on March 28 after it was found that she had misappropriated company funds to pay a $1,564 personal bill. An auditor later discovered other irregularities, the officer said.

Singleton said that she had lived in Hillsborough, and drove a Lincoln Continental car. She had recently moved into San Bruno's Shelter Creek Apartments, however, Singleton added, following a divorce.

Mills is free on $10,000 bail, pending her appearance in Superior Court, Oct. 25, for probation report and sentencing.

GOP Leads in Seats On Peninsula Councils

By DUANE SANDUL

Democrats make up 55.3 per cent of the county's registered voters: Republicans 38.4 per cent.

Yet, of the current 96 councilmen in San Mateo County's cities and East Palo Alto, 62 office holders are Republicans and 34 are Democrats. Of course, these politicians run on non-partisan basis.

Yet, in elections when the voters clearly know that a candidate is a Republican or a Democrat, they have voted along "party lines" four out of five times.

For example, Republican Assemblyman Dixon Arnett's 26th district contains 3 per cent more Democrats than Republicans. But Arnett has easily won in his two bids for office.

And in the two congressional districts in San Mateo County, Democrat Leo Ryan dominated the heavily Democratic 11th district, and Paul N. "Pete" McCloskey dominated the Republican-dominated 17th district.

Arlen Gregorio, Democratic state senator, has a heavily Democratic district, as does Lou Papas, the Democratic assemblyman from the 27th district.

Yet, in the non-partisan county supervisorial races, three supervisors reside in districts in which the majority of voters belong to the opposite party. But elections are county-wide.

For instance, Republican Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald of San Bruno resides in a district which has 31,359 Democrats to 11,709 Republicans.

And Republican Supervisor William E. Royer lives in a district populated by 31,043 Democrats to 22,901 Republicans. Supervisor Gerald F. "Ged" Day, a Republican, was elected out of a district which has 400 more Democrats than Republicans.

The figures are even more interesting for the non-partisan races in the cities.

For example, San Mateo's voters are 20,830 Democrat to 17,065 Republican, yet each of the city's five councilmen is a Republican.

In Redwood City, seven Republican councilmen living in a heavily Democratic city (14,736 to 9,605) appointed a Democratic city manager, James M. Fales, Jr.

Of course, Fales' party affiliation was not given to the councilmen as a basis of decision.

Belmont is another Democratic-dominated community with a 3-to-2 majority in Republicans as councilmen.

In Millbrae, where Democrats hold a 1,500-vote majority over Republicans, the voters have chosen three Republican councilmen to one Democrat. Millbrae's Bernard J. Spera is the only councilman in San Mateo County's 19 cities who has registered under "declined to state."

In San Carlos, where Democrats outnumber Republicans by only 76, the city has sent three Republicans to the city council which has a Democratic city manager.

In South San Francisco, where Democrats out-register Republicans by a whopping 3-to-1, the city has two Republican councilmen.

Besides San Mateo and Redwood City, the cities with councils with all Republicans are Atherton and Hillsborough.

Elects

Officers

Richard Gleason, Commissioner of Elections at Serramonte High School, announced last week the results of recent class elections.

The Senior Class elected Sabrina Abraham, president; Jim Pappas, vice president; Kim Barth, secretary; and Dave Amituanai, treasurer.

Serving as Junior Class Officers are Lori Kaplan, president; Lynn McNeil, vice president; Bill Leise, secretary, and Mike Drory, treasurer.

The Sophomore Class will be led by Amy Schwimmer, president; Keith Pult, vice president; Sophia Kwok, secretary and Gale Hom, treasurer.

Freshman Class officers are Debbie Misk, president; Janet Aguilera, vice president; Tia Sperios, secretary, and Steve Phelps, treasurer.

Brisbane is the only city in the county with an exclusive council of Democrats — two. That's because three councilmen were recalled last month, and their replacements have not yet been elected.

Other figures: Burlingame (three Republicans, two Democrats, plus the only city manager in the county to register under "declined to state.") He is Charles Schwalm.

The cities of Foster City, Colma, Daly City, Half Moon

Bay, Pacifica, San Bruno, South San Francisco and East Palo Alto each have three Democrats to two Republicans on the council.

Woodside has 6 Republicans to one Democrat; Menlo Park three Republicans to two Demos, and Portola Valley four Republicans to one Demo.

Of the present 12 city managers in the county who have been in the county long enough to register, seven are Republicans and five are Democrats.

And in the late afternoon, lively discussion of many

Priorities Sets for County Health Care

County health authorities and medical leaders are weighing the day-long program of workshops and expert analysis of San Mateo County's public responsibility for delivery of health care services conducted Sept. 30 at Canada College.

The program placed special emphasis on the health care needs of the poor. Out of the series of workshops came 16 recommendations as to directions and priorities in planning a health care delivery system for San Mateo County.

Dr. George Pickett, county health and welfare director and the final morning speaker, in analyzing the problems of a network of health care that would involve the well as much as the sick, in preventative medicine and full participation in the potential system, described such an integrated mechanism as:

... a weaver, who would pull the diverse threads viewpoints wound up the session.

Health authorities today stress three major viewpoints that developed during the day.

Dr. Bradley Brownson, chief of community medicine at Choppe Community Hospital, said that he had found "agreement that social services and other health-related helping services should be available on a coordinated basis in the private sector."

He noted that there appeared to be an assumption "perhaps not wholly justified, that the private sector had, in fact, achieved this kind of coordination of health and social services."

Len Hughes Andrus, M.D., chairman of the Department of Family Practice, School of Medicine, University of California at Davis, stressed that patient participation is needed "for maintaining his own health."

Dr. Andrus emphasized the need for preventive steps to cut down needless expense by identifying potentially health problems early, and he urged more attention by consumers "to the policy issues surrounding health care delivery."

The bride said her vows in an Empire style dress of English net with lace applique trim. For something old, she carried a hand-tatted lace trimmed handkerchief which belonged to the bridegroom's mother, the late Jeanne Alioto.

Matron of honor for her sister-in-law was Ann Rozzi. Dawn Alioto, the bridegroom's sister, shared bridesmaid duties with Donna Bertini, the bride's cousin, and Debbie Higgins. All four girls chose lilac chiffon gowns and matching wide-brimmed hats.

Jim Harrold stood with his cousin as best man, and Michael Rozzi, the bride's brother, seated guests with Richard Gonzales and Raymond Teresi.

and Mrs. Edward Moore of Sunnyvale. He is the grandson of Mrs. Samuel Moore of St. Augustine, Fla., and Mrs. James Vernon of Grosse Pointe Park, Mich.

The couple honeymooned in Southern California and is now living in Burlingame.

Gagliolo-Moss

Newly-appointed San Mateo County Sheriff John R. MacDonald Jr. and Loren Beckley, chief probation officer, will be the keynote speakers at a conference on "Volunteers in Corrections" on Saturday at 9:30 a.m. at the College of San Mateo.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gheleta and Paul Lind are general cochairmen of the event which is sponsored by the Service League of San Mateo County, Volunteers in Probation Services and the Volunteer Bureau of San Mateo County.

The Service League of San Mateo County concentrates on families of inmates as well as providing programs for the inmates themselves. Volunteers in Probation Services provide service upon request of a probation officer. Each organization has about 200 members.

The morning session will be moderated by Mrs. Aram Serverian of Foster City. Service League programs will be presented by Mrs. Pat Johnson, League family service director; Lt. Grant Davis of the San Mateo county Sheriff's office; Skip Durancyk, VISTA volunteer with the Service League; Sergeant Marilyn Howard of the women's jail; Mrs. M. J. Kolze of Belmont; and Mrs. Howard Boone of Woodside.

Probation department programs will be chaired by John Piotti, supervising probation officer, assisted by Pat McQuade of Hillcrest Juvenile Hall and Tom Anderson, adult probation officer.

Guild. Three regulation courts have been built on the school campus, and the cost of construction and maintenance is an ongoing project of all fund-raising events.

LWV to Launch Campaign Study

Women in North County will be participating in a nation wide study of campaign financing under the direction of the League of Women Voters.

During the second week of October, members will meet to discuss the issue in light of the League's position on representative government. It calls for an open governmental system which is representative and responsive. Such a system requires campaign financing practices which ensure the public's right to know: eliminate corruption and undue influence; and enable candidates to compete more equitably for public office.

The initial steps toward achieving such a system are measures which provide for full disclosure of all campaign contributions and expenditures; and for effective monitoring and enforcement by an independent body.

Broad questions which focus on the major problem areas in campaign financing will be discussed at the meetings, and a consensus will be taken before Nov. 21.

Guests are invited to two workshops: Oct. 10 at St. Peter's Catholic Church, 700 Oddstad in Pacifica; and Oct. 11 at St. Thomas Lutheran Church, 250 Courtland in San Bruno. Both meetings will be from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Transportation and babysitting arrangements may be made through the League office, 355-4408.

Action Rescinded by Board

Classes Restored in S.S.F.

South San Francisco school administrators were bus last week rehiring and reassigned teachers in order to restore six classes that had been ordered eliminated on Sept. 17.

School trustees voted to rescind their previous action at the Oct. 2 meeting after a hearing a room full of parent-leaders protested the elimination of classes. The classes had been eliminated upon recommendation of administrators, after they had failed to come up to their projected sizes.

Classes restored were at Martin, El Rancho, Spruce, Sunshine Gardens and Los Cerritos schools, with first and third grades mainly involved.

In addition, the trustees voted to provide half-time instructional aides for oversize 6th grade classrooms at Junipero Serra and Sunshine Gardens schools.

Addressing the board, in their plea to restore the classes, were Mrs. Robert Lambertson, representing El Rancho parents; Mrs. Julius Reimche, representing Sunshine Gardens parents, and Spruce School Principal Frank H. McNutt.

A report from the administration cited that a number of classes had fallen below the 27-student level that the trustees had previously agreed to maintain in elementary school. All efforts are made to forecast the sum from the cash register.

Store Robbed In Daly City

Two men held up a neighborhood grocery store in Daly City Oct. 2.

A clerk suffered a minor laceration of a hand from a knife wielded by one of the robbers, and the wallet of an elderly customer was taken, along with the undetermined sum from the cash register.

The Only District School Skyline College Shows Fall Growth

Skyline College in San Bruno is the only campus in the San Mateo Community College District to show appreciable growth this fall.

Otherwise for the third year in a row, attendance in the system remains static.

According to figures released by district officials, the fall attendance for all phases of the district's educational operations — day division, evening division, community services and other ers in the district's three schools — will be about 7,500.

The only campus in the system to show appreciable growth this fall is Skyline College in San Bruno.

Skyline's attendance is up by about seven per cent. Its day division has increased by about three per cent. The evening division is up nearly 18 per cent.

The College of San Mateo, the largest and oldest school in the district, has remained almost stable in its total attendance.

Its day division is down by about 2½ per cent. Evening figures indicate that attendance is up seven per cent at night.

Canada College in Redwood City is suffering from marked decline in attendance.

Total attendance there is down by about seven per cent. Its day division has declined by about nine per cent. The evening division is down by .5 per cent.

Late this summer, District Chancellor Glenn Smith had predicted that attendance would rise by about one per cent over 1972-73.

Smith is in Washington, D.C., this week and could not be reached for comment today. However, a district official did offer that there is a possibility that attendance could increase slightly over the next several weeks.

U.S. Sen. John Tunney (Dem-Calif.) broke his two week old semi-fast by devouring beef medallion preceded by a peanut butter sandwich Sunday at a fund-raising dinner for Congressman Leo Ryan in San Mateo.

Senator Tunney had been subsisting on $1.25 a day after he was challenged before television reporters by a senior citizen who said many elderly were attempting to live on that food budget.

"I'm glad I did it. It wasn't pleasant but it gives one a good perspective," Senator Tunney said. "I lost eight pounds. I found myself getting irritable easily. I couldn't concentrate on anything but food."

"It makes me very angry to see sleek politicians talking about school lunch programs as inflationary."

Tunney praised the reassertion of powers by Congress. "I hope and pray that Spiro Agnew is innocent. I hope and pray that President Nixon is innocent of any wrongdoing. I do know, however, that only 20 per cent of the United States people have any faith in the Supreme Court, in the administration and in politicians in general according to polls. That is the same as in Germany before the Third Reich. I am not saying that the same situation prevails here but we need men like Leo Ryan in Congress to restore our values." Ryan's vote on cutting off funds for Cambodia bombing was particularly praised.

Ryan was also lauded at the dinner at the Villa Hotel before some 150 supporters by House Majority Whip

TOMORROW NIGHT'S School Night to Join Cub Scouting may have to do without little Dino Battaglini, left, helping his big brother Cub Scout Giulio Battaglini dress for a pack meeting. Sorry, Dino, you have to be in at least the third grade to be a Cub Scout. Giulio is a member of a South San Francisco pack which, like all San Mateo County units, will recruit new members Oct. 11 at local schools. (Post Photo by George Brooke)

Nell Norton

Good Morning, good cooks.

After reading last week's column and seeing what happened to the recipe for Inside-Out Ravioli, I feel it could have been named Upside-Down-Cross-Ways and Mixed-Up Ravioli. Honestly it looked like mice got into the type. Here it is again, it's such a good recipe it deserves a second chance.

INSIDE-OUT RAVIOLI

1 pound ground beef
1 medium onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tablespoon oil
10-oz. package frozen, chopped spinach
1 package prepared spaghetti seasoning
1 large can solid pack tomatoes, No. 2½
1 6-oz. can tomato paste
½ teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
1 package bow-tie macaroni
½ cup soft bread crumbs
1 cup shredded sharp process American cheese
2 well-beaten eggs
¼ cup oil
Parmesan cheese

Brown the one pound ground beef, one chopped onion and one minced clove garlic in the one tablespoon oil. Cook the 10-ounce package spinach; drain, reserving liquid. Add enough water to make one cup. Stir spinach liquid and the one package spaghetti sauce seasoning into the meat mixture. Add the large can tomatoes and 6 ounces tomato paste, blend well and simmer for ten minutes.

Cook and drain the bow-tie macaroni. In mixing bowl combine the macaroni, one-half cup bread crumbs, one cup shredded cheese, two well beaten eggs, one-fourth cup salad oil and the drained spinach. Spread in 9x13-inch baking pan. Top with meat sauce. Bake in 350-degree oven for 30 minutes or bubbly hot. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and serve.

Serves eight.

Almost everyone likes oatmeal cookies, and when you add salted peanuts and chocolate bits to them, that's really a treat. In this case, a generous treat for the recipe makes between seven and eight dozen cookies.

PEANUT AND CHOCOLATE OATMEAL COOKIES

4 cup shortening
1 cup margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
1½ cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
3 cups rolled oats
1 6½-oz. can salted peanuts
1 6-oz. package chocolate bits

In large mixing bowl, cream together the half cup each shortening and margarine and the one cup each granulated and brown sugar. Add the teaspoon vanilla and two eggs, beat well (about 3 minutes at medium speed). Sift together the one and one-half cups flour and one teaspoon soda. Add to the creamed mixture and mix well. Thoroughly mix in the three cups rolled oats, 6½-ounces salted peanuts and 6-ounces chocolate bits. Drop by rounded teaspoons onto lightly greased cookie sheets. Bake in 350-degree oven 10 to 12 minutes. Makes seven to eight dozen.

D.C. Postmaster Announces New Money Order System

A new postal money order system will provide added safety and savings to both the customer and the U.S. Postal Service will be introduced in Daly City Oct. 13. Postmaster Daniel F. Coffey said last week.

Buyers of the new money order will pay one fee valued from $50.01 to $300.00, the new limit on amounts per order. Fees for the lesser amounts will remain the same.

Under the old system, a $300 money order would involve three 40-cent fees for a total of $1.20. The new system will provide 2.3 cent reduction to 40 cents.

"For example," said Coffey, "the buyer of a $130 money order under the existing system pays a 40-cent fee for the first $100 and another 35-cent fee for the additional $30. The same money order, under the new program, will cost only 40 cents. The new system, soon to be phased in throughout the nation, is another example of an improved postal product, not only at no additional cost to our customers, but often at less cost."

The system for handling the new money orders is more efficient than the old manual system. "As a result of greater efficiency, we expect to save about $1.6 million a year when the new money order becomes available nationwide," said Coffey.

The Postal Service has centralized administration of its money order system at the St. Louis operation. It uses optical character recognition and computer techniques in administering the money order program.

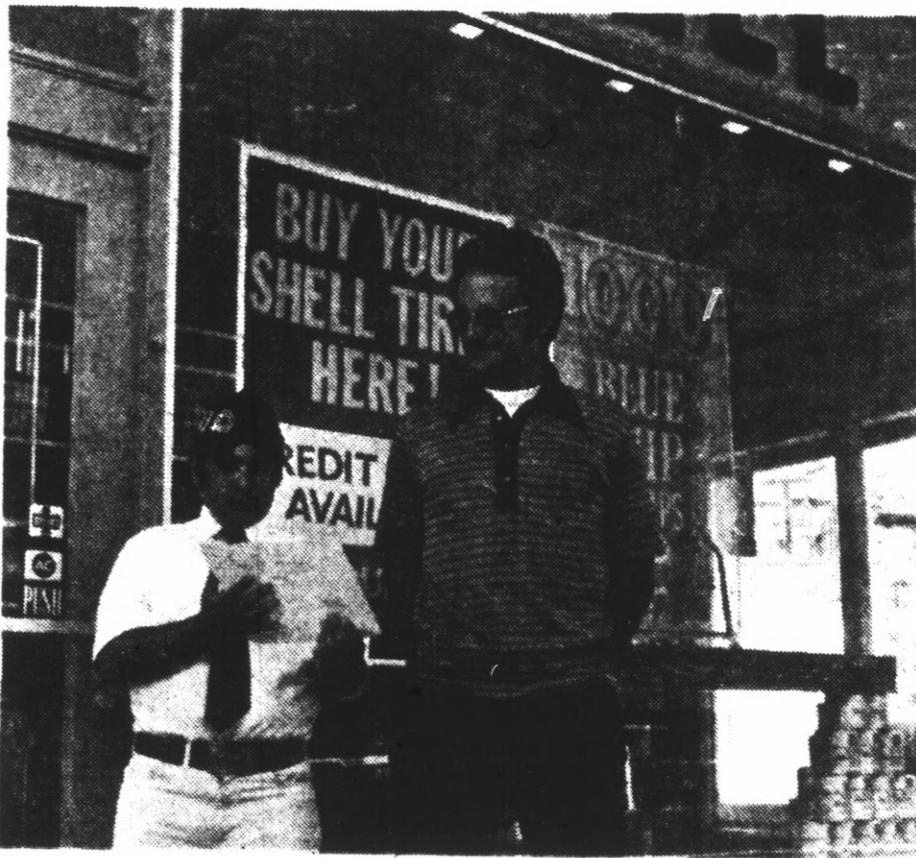

The new money order form meets American Bankers Association standards for rapid handling and processing. The biggest single printing contract ever let — larger than the Internal Revenue Service's yearly contract for income tax forms — involved the printing of nearly 1 billion money order forms to be used over the next five years.

Ahh! Who cannot agree with Charles Eliot. "Taking food and drink is a great enjoyment for healthy people?"

So go out to dinner. Let the hosts and the staffs of the restaurants in the Daly City-Colma area help you enjoy dishes like those that Shakespeare found "... stored full to glad the sight."

Tonight try an Italian dish. Seneca called such cuisine the food capable of rendering a man a "rival of Jove himself in happiness." At Toto's Restaurant and Pizzeria, 1913 Junipero Serra Boulevard, complete family style dinners add to the pleasures of Frank Spadarelli's menu.

At Joe's of Westlake, Alemany at Lake Merced Boulevard, both Italian and American dishes are found on the bill of fare. The day at Joe's extends from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Italian food may also be found at George's Westlake Pizza Shoppe, 175 Southgate Ave., where sandwiches rule the day.

A visit to the unique Round Table Pizza at 63 St. Francis Square is an experience to enjoy.

Shakey's is in the Broadmoor Shopping Center on Junipero Serra Boulevard. Here old movies and old songs move to the clinks of pitchers of beer.

Luigi's, an old Daly City-Colma house, has been re-established in the Serramonte Shopping Center.

FOR SPANISH food Estrada's Kitchen at 7440 Mission St. offers an atmosphere that enhances a composite cuisine. The cafe is open from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Lisa's Mexican Restaurant at 6582 Mission is open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays; from 11 a.m. to midnight, Fridays and Saturdays and from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. Sundays.

The La Perla Restaurant at 7398 Mission serves diners from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m.

For a delightful dish, visit LeLoi Cafe on Mission Street, at number 6233, where Vietnamese food is prepared by former residents of that ancient land in Indochina.

Many courses of Chinese food are served at the Great Wall in St. Francis Square.

The Jade Dragon is in Broadmoor at Junipero Serra Boulevard. It is an old Daly City cafe that has been moved recently and renamed.

On Mission Street Chinese food may be enjoyed at the S and K Restaurant and at the Gateway Kitchen. Both have been enjoyed by residents for years.

A NEW CHINESE cafe has opened on Southgate Avenue in Westlake. Known as the King Wah, it serves patrons in a newly decorated hall.

For fish or other traditional American dishes in an atmosphere that complements them, Vincenzo's is excellent. It is located on B Street near ALEC's and near the Serra Bowl. Here the Friar Room features an enjoyable buffet and here also is a coffee shop.

The Skyliner at 35 Skyline Plaza offers good food and a brand of hospitality that has solicited the comments of pleased diners.

Val's Redwood Room at 89 Junipero Serra has long been the choice of many residents as the Daly City place to dine.

The Ranch Inn offers a menu that complements the unique Serramonte Shopping Center.

An inexpensive but tasty meal is the feature of Sirloin Steak Pit on Mission Street.

The Bunker Room on Hillside Boulevard, surrounded by a beautiful golf course is the rendezvous of sportsmen.

Besides these there are several coffee shops where good food and great service may be found. Lyons is off Alemany Boulevard on Poncetta Street.

The Daly City Coffee shop is at 6339 Mission; the Copper Kettle at 6389, while Vern's is further south at 6841 Mission. Denny's is part of the Serramonte Center; the Bumbleberry Inn is on Junipero Serra near the Gemco store and near the Serramonte theaters. Tony's Bar-B-Q serves a great lunch at 215 School St.

Even as I write, new restaurants are being opened in the Daly City-Colma area. All to offer pleasure to the residents.

Westmoor Runners

Victorious

Cross country is very much alive at Westmoor as Coach Art Reade and the Ram distance team defeated Aragon 19-36, Sept. 27.

Bob Miller led Westmoor's varsity contingent with a time of 14.03 for the 2.6 mile home course. His time was 15 seconds off his course record of 13.48 set two weeks ago against Crestmoor.

Senior John Wilson barely lost a close battle for second with Gardner of Aragon. The Don runner was awarded second after the two sprinted in shoulder to shoulder, both timed at 14.30. However, Westmoor ran up the next three places with Tony Tarantino timed in 14.41, Jim Liston in 14.42 and Harold Yamauchi in 14.57.

Westmoor sophomore Cliff Williams burned off his competition early in his race to win with an excellent time of 14.56. Although several Aragon runners broke into the Ram Fresh-Soph ranks, Steve Cornejo and Dave Jeppson copped third and fourth sealing Westmoor's 26-29 win.

Dave Lippi won the junior varsity race in a time of 15.34 for the 2.6-mile course. In this division Westmoor took all of the first five places except fourth, giving them a 19-30 victory and a sweep of all divisions.

So far this year all the Ram cross country teams are undefeated.

What a fun weekend at Scotty Campbell's restaurant! ### Nick Gust Back With Three Restaurants

For pure dining pleasure, set your sails for Nick Gust's restaurant mecca in Rockaway Beach. The Moonraker features Continental cuisine in an atmosphere of nautical grandeur. The walls are of cork made from life preservers, and tan canvas sails hang from the ceiling. There are wood pilings stacked throughout the main dining room and lounge, where a majestic view of the Pacific Ocean and its rolling surf below is "just what the doctor ordered" . . . Located on the level below is the newly-christened Captain Charles, a gourmet seafood restaurant which is open Wednesdays through Sundays from 4 p.m. to midnight. A tribute to Charlie Gust, who all long-time Rockaway Beach residents remember as a pioneer of Pacifica with dreams that he lived to see fulfilled, this outstanding restaurant is dedicated to pleasing the epicurean taste in seafood delicacies . . . Just across the way, and also situated for ocean viewing while dining, is Nick's restaurant and lounge, where a well staffed kitchen consistently turns out an enormous range of rib-sticking viands. A typical breakfast bill of fare might include an omelette (several from which to choose), French Toast, Hot Cakes, with popular ham, bacon or sausage side orders. Dinners are served deluxe or a la carte, and the portions are ample.

French Corner for Champagne Specialty

A world of soft lights, music and continental charm awaits you at The French Corner of the Hilton Inn. The charming restaurant features a popular champagne specialty . . . Caesar Salad with choice of Chateau Briand or Rack of Lamb and Coupe Romanoff dessert. Maurice Anger entertains at the piano, also brings in his band for dancing Thursday through Saturday nights. Besides the superb cuisine and romantic atmosphere, the French Corner's traditionally excellent service now is under the direction of maître d' Peter Stahle . . . You really should try the delicious Eggplant Parmigiana as served at Bertolucci's restaurant in South San Francisco. They also specialize in homemade ravioli (made by the Bertolucci family) with Mamma's special filling . . . When you buy tickets at the Circle Star Theater for one of their performances, the envelope in which the tickets are enclosed are through the courtesy of Sal Campagna, owner of the House of Troy restaurant in San Carlos. Note the map which directs you to the restaurant . . . Frank Denke is master of the grand during the cocktail hour each afternoon in the Terrace Room at the Hotel St. Francis. The San Francisco tradition of complimentary hors d'oeuvres from 5 p.m. continues to be a Terrace Room feature.

The Hungry Tiger's Thurs. Nite Clam Bake

The Hungry Tiger Seafood restaurant in San Mateo intends to change the belief that only Providence, Rhode Island's world-famous Squantum Association and prestigious Ponham Club are considered synonymous with the baking of poquahocks, or quahogs. In other words, erudite epicureans feel that the only two places you can get an honest-to-goodness, old fashioned clam bake are a couple of old clam bake clubs in New England. The Hungry Tiger restaurant says "Poppy Cock," and is gonna prove it launching weekly. Thursday night clam bakes. In the tradition of the classic New England clam bake, the Hungry Tiger in San Mateo will feature clam chowder, Maine lobster, chicken, corn-on-the-cob, potatoes, etc., all the beer one can drink and, of course, buckets of steamed Ipswich clams (poquahocks or quahogs, if you prefer). Supervising the preparation of the bakes will be Chief Chef David J. May, an English-born culinary expert. Because preparations will be made to serve only 60 persons, Manager Albert Badoux says reservations are a must.

10th Judge Argued

According to statistics compiled by Assistant Dist. Atty. William Larsen, chief of the municipal court prosecutors, there were more than 15,000 "filings" of complaints in the municipal court last year. The breakdown:

Southern District: 5,313; Central: 4,931; Northern: 2,857; Central: 2,611; Northern: 6,529.

The filings included hundreds of preliminary hearings of felony cases.

For the first six months of this year the figures, according to Larsen: Southern: 2,857; Central: 2,611; Northern: 6,529.

Larsen provided statistics on the number of trials scheduled in the three districts, yet emphasized that comparison "is like adding apples and oranges" because the Northern District schedules trials before "pre-trial" conferences are held; the other two districts schedule the trial after pre-trials.

Pre-trial conferences are meeting among the respective attorneys and the judge in an attempt to reach a resolution, such as a plea to a lesser charge or a plea to one crime with the dropping of another, in order to avoid trial.

Larsen said that Northern had 276 trials scheduled for Sept. 5 through Nov. 28; Central 138 trials between Sept. 6 and Dec. 13; Southern 177 trials set between Sept. 6 and Dec. 6.

People have always been more interested and had more enthusiasm for boys' and men's sports. They always flock to boys' games and meets and cheer them on. Even students at school show little if any interest in what happens in G.A.A. It's not promoted enough.

G.A.A. should be on par with boys' athletics.

GAA has to worry about officials and judges to pay (judges for meets are difficult to find); replacing old and worn out equipment; buying new and necessary equipment; there are uniforms, shirts, trophies, ribbons, banquets and countless other items to pay for without any help from a district paid budget.

Larsen pointed out that several of the scheduled trials never go because of the defendants' "plead" before the trial.

Yet, he says that the figures "begin to tax the system."

Because of the complexity of the statistics, Larsen emphasized that he is not arguing for or against a 10th judge.

Recognizing the potential for extreme "backlogs," innovations have been made.

All three judicial districts utilize traffic referee, who hears contested traffic matters and handles pleas on those still farmed out for trial to the regular judges.

Also, for the past several months, attorneys have voluntarily served as "judge pro tems" in the Southern District on Thursdays and Fridays, handling a jury trial each week.

Although the concept has been beneficial, it has not resulted in easing the backlog, according to Larsen.

Job Program

A 4-to-10-months vocational and apprenticeship program with more than 40 fields to choose from is being offered by the U.S. Navy, according to Don Mittelstaedt, Navy spokesman.

Mittelstaedt said the program is designed to aid those needing work experience in order to land a good job but find it difficult to gain the needed experience.

Details are available at the Navy office at 1711 S. El Camino Real in San Mateo.

LAYING ON A STRETCHER after being involved in an automobile accident on the Bayshore freeway Monday is Yong Whoi Kim of the Korean Counsel in San Francisco. Attendants help Kim to the ambulance.

Man Killed in Accident

A 50-year-old San Francisco teamster was crushed beneath the wheels of an Airporter about 1:30 p.m. Monday after being ejected from the truck he was driving.

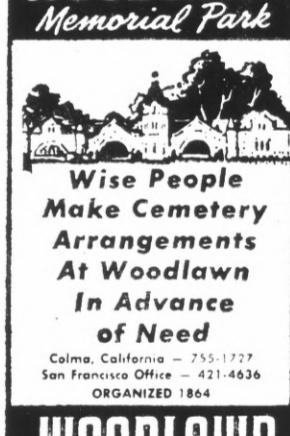

It collided with the transit vehicle on the northbound lanes of the Bayshore Freeway near South San Francisco, CHP officials said.

San Mateo County Coroner's officials withheld the name of the dead man pending notification of next of kin.

Three other persons — the bus driver, a member of the Korean Counsel and a taxi driver — were taken to Mary's Help Hospital, Daly City, following the accident.

According to officials, the accident involving the Korean Counsel car and the taxi followed the bus-truck accident, when the two autos were apparently unable to stop in time.

Theft Try, 3 Arrested

Three men were arrested as they allegedly attempted to break into a Daly City auto dealership service department early Monday.

An alert neighbor spotted the trio as they climbed a fence and made their way onto the roof of the two-story structure at Ed Norris Volkswagen on Hillside Boulevard, police said.

Police arrested Larry Marino, 25, of 75 Marshall Way, Daly City, was discovered by police hiding in the basement garage of an adjoining home on Bismarck St. after he reportedly jumped from the roof of the building.

Marino suffered a broken foot in the jump and was under guard at Mary's Help Hospital where he was being treated, police said.

A rope ladder and an assortment of burglary tools was found on the roof, police said.

According to a report from the California Highway Patrol, the bus was in the process of overtaking the truck south of the South San Francisco weigh scales.

CHP officials said the truck apparently swerved into the path of the bus and the two vehicles collided.

The driver of the truck was then thrown from his vehicle and pinned his body under the bus' rear wheels.

Boys Arrested

A San Bruno youth and two South San Francisco juveniles were arrested Tuesday by South San Francisco police in connection with an attempted burglary on Tipperary Avenue.

Police said a neighbor noticed three juveniles prowling around a residence. She called police.

The arresting officers were Gary Thornton and John Neal.

Ray Bradbury - A Self Admitted Enigma

By JOHN HORGAN

It took this fellow three days to get up enough courage to ride to the top of the Eiffel Tower.

He doesn't drive an automobile and he has never been inside a jet plane.

As a child it was all he could do to overcome a morbid, gripping fear of the dark.

As he puts it, "I'm the world's greatest coward."

But you would never know it from reading his bizarre, moving and sometimes terrifying books and articles.

Ray Bradbury is an admitted enigma.

One of the deans of science-fiction writers, Bradbury, 51, is a bundle of contradictions.

A man who urges others to act, Bradbury himself says the only time he has been flying was in the Goodyear blimp — "because if the motors gave out we could always glide along."

He actually began writing because of his fear of the dark, a fear that was so great that he could not ascend the stairs at his house to go to the bathroom at night if the lights weren't on. "There was a monster at the top of those stairs when I was a kid," he told an audience of some 800 persons last week at Skyline College in San Bruno.

"I started with my own fear and grew out of it," he said. "I worked my way into the light."

He explained that, "One by one I pulled the lizards and dinosaurs out of my head."

The author of such works as the "Martian Chronicles" and "The Illustrated Man" said he gets his ideas for stories through word association and a kind of intuition. If he tried hard to think about what he was doing or writing, he said, he'd probably flop badly.

"You can never know where ideas are going to come from," he enthused. "I have a sign above my desk which says 'Don't Think.'

There is a joy and excitement in doing. I have to feel my way through life. With my guts. That's the way to live. Do things you want to do. Beware of the professional thinkers. They wouldn't know a creative idea if it jumped up and bit them in the bleep."

He offered that, "Creative people come first and the data collectors come second. Beware of the theorists."

Bradbury, the father of four daughters and a resident of Los Angeles, told the gathering in the wind-swept gymnasium that only recently has he learned how to cry, to cleanse himself emotionally.

He read several poems which were evidence of his new-found capacity and one of them related to what man must look for in the creatures we eventually discover on other worlds.

Titled "Man Is the Animal That Cries," the poem emphasized that some of those foreign beings will have the ability to laugh and institution's community services program, is hardly a newcomer in this field.

He said he has been writing science-fiction since he was a boy of 12 in Illinois.

"I fell in love with space travel in the Twenties," he said.

Until the last decade or so, his creative efforts gained him little. He pointed out that, often, the smart set would call him "Flash Gordon" at cocktail parties and generally treat him like some kind of intellectual pariah.

"Then, four years ago, we landed on the moon," Bradbury chortled. "I really wanted to go back and see some of those people again."

Perhaps this is one of the reasons for his current lecture tour. Because, finally, in the decade of Apollo, all of those wild, zany Ray Bradbury plots don't seem quite so outlandish any more.

Pacifica Obtains Bids for First Major City Park

The City of Pacifica finally obtained bids for construction on its first major city park.

The project had been stalled for lack of bids on two successive occasions. However, last Thursday, two bids were received to build the first phase of the 36-acre Frontierland Park, to be located on Oddstad Boulevard and Yosemite Drive, in the sunny Park Pacifica neighborhood.

City councilmen were to consider the bids at their regular meeting last night.

Low bidder is Huetting and Schramm of Menlo Park, quoting $165,346. Their rival is the Palo Alto Landscape Co., with a $247,268 bid. The city's engineering department estimated cost of construction at $137,382. Although the city can legally throw out all bids, it appears probably the low bid will be accepted, since the engineer's estimate was made before recent price increases, according to City Manager Dave Thompson.

Meanwhile, negotiations are in progress to bring the bid price down, possibly through redesign.

In charge of developing the new park is Pacifica's new park superintendent, Sylvester W. Duplessis.

Duplessis was for six years assistant park superintendent in Redwood City. He has had extensive experience as a landscape contractor — one of the major qualifications for his task in Pacifica. In fact, he feared he would have to put his experience to work in Frontierland Park, before the Huetting and Schramm bid came in.

THE FIRST phase of the Frontierland Park project will involve preparing the lower park area for play and picnicking.

The site is mostly bare and hilly at the foot of Montara Mountain. Part of the site formerly was used for Pacifica's city dump, during which time some flat areas were created. It will serve as a link to the new county park, with a nature center to serve as the origin of a number of hiking trails, as in Yosemite Park.

The first phase, however, will be confined to a parking lot, restrooms with an arbor, group and individual picnic sites and barbecues, play areas, a large lawn and park lighting.

The remainder of the work will be completed in stages as funds become available. An amphitheater for weekend concerts will be built with funds donated by Standard Oil Co. in payment for teenage volunteer work to save birds trapped by oil slicks.

Planned are a park building, ball fields, a running stream and pool, tennis courts and other sports facilities.

DUPLESSIS is meanwhile looking around for other areas in the city which could serve as future parks, although, he stressed, Frontierland will be the city's major park.

Sheriff McDonald To Speak

John R. McDonald, Sheriff of San Mateo County, will be the featured speaker at the Oct. 31 meeting of the Daly City Rotary Club.

He earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Police Administration at California State College of Los Angeles, is a graduate of FBI National Academy and is engaged in graduate work in Public Administration at the University of Southern California.

He is a member of the Advisory Board of the College of San Mateo Police Academy, Canada College Police Science Program and past president of San Mateo County Law Enforcement Association.

Active in numerous professional statewide organizations, McDonald is also a member of many civic clubs throughout the county. He received the "Young Man of the Year" Distinguished Service Award, Ventura in 1961.

Add Calas to Repertoire of Rice Recipes

Some 7,000 varieties of rice are grown in the world, but only about a dozen varieties are grown in this country, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

There are three basic types:

SHORT GRAIN rice kernels are about twice as long as they are wide. They cook moist and tender, and the kernels cling together. Short grain rice is ideal for puddings, stuffings, rice rings, and Oriental cooking.

MEDIUM GRAIN rice is similar to short grain rice — the kernels are about 2½ times longer than they are wide and it is almost as tender and moist as short grain rice.

Medium grain goes well with meat dishes and in stuffings and puddings.

LONG GRAIN rice is the most popular size rice in the United States. Long grain kernels are about three times longer than they are wide. They cook firm and dry and do not stick together. Long grain rice is often served as side dishes, in soups, and with gravy.

And then there's WILD RICE. It is not a true rice, but the grain of a tall annual grass. It is dark brown and has a nutty flavor. It is truly a gourmet item and is rather expensive.

Rice is further identified on the package according to the way it is processed for use.

BROWN RICE is rice which has had the hull removed. It has a nutty flavor and a chewy texture and is ideal for making stuffing for poultry.

MILLED OR WHITE RICE is rice with the hull and all or most of the bran layers removed. White rice is used in puddings and as a complement for meat and seafood dishes. It is also good for people on special diets.

ENRICHED RICE is milled rice which has been enriched with thiamin, niacin, and iron.

PARBOILED RICE is milled rice which has been partially cooked by a special process which causes some of the nutrients to move from the outer layers into the inner kernel. This process also increases the life of the rice. Parboiled rice takes longer to cook than regular white rice but is just as versatile.

INSTANT RICE is just that. It is milled rice which has been precooked and dehydrated to reduce cooking time.

To add a touch of the Old South to breakfast or brunch, try Calas — a traditional New Orleans recipe.

CALAS 1½ cups rice, cooked very soft
½ package yeast, active dry or compressed
½ cup warm water
3 eggs, beaten

1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

Fat for frying
Mash rice and cool to lukewarm. Soften yeast in warm water and stir into lukewarm rice; mix well. Cover and let rise overnight. Add eggs, flour, sugar, salt and nutmeg. Beat only until smooth. Let stand in a warm place for 30 minutes. Drop by tablespoonsfuls into deep hot fat (360 degrees) and fry until golden, about three minutes. Serve sprinkled with confectioners' sugar or sugar mixed with cinnamon. Makes 2 dozen Calas.

Milk Shake Is Party Treat

For a banana milk shake use, for each portion, a cup of milk, half a cup of mashed banana and half a cup of vanilla ice cream; buzz in a blender. Serve to the youngsters for an after-school or party treat.

Food for Life

How Fats Figure In Diet

"Saturated, unsaturated, polyunsaturated."

These three words have become red, amber and green lights in the road of the American diet. They describe the three major types of fats in our foods, and are now used in helping to diagnose impending heart disease and in treating weight problems.

Most foods have varying amounts of each kind of fat. Saturated fats derived primarily from animal sources — including beef, pork, lamb, etc. — are solid at room temperatures. Unsaturated fats, found chiefly in vegetable oils, are normally liquid at room temperature. Notable exceptions are the highly saturated fats in coconut oil and the polyunsaturated fats of specially processed margarines.

Most of us eat far more fat than is necessary. The national average approaches a quarter pound per person per day, or about 1,000 calories. But I have never agreed with those who insist that Americans should avoid eating all saturated fats to prevent heart problems. In fact, it is unwise and even impossible to eliminate them entirely when eating a normal diet.

I do feel, however, that it's sensible to reduce the amount of saturated fats in the diet wherever possible. Trimming off excess fat from meat and eating fewer fried or fat-rich foods and snacks is practical.

These suggestions particularly apply to the 40 per cent of the population regarded as being in the "at risk" group of heart-attack prone persons. There is evidence that shows only about half of these individuals should eat fewer saturated fats and more polyunsaturates. People with above-normal levels of fat or cholesterol in the blood are in this group, as determined by medical testing and evaluation.

If you are found to be "at risk," your doctor can tell if the problem is because you eat too much saturated fat, too few polyunsaturates, too many calories from other sources; or if there is another reason. Parents may want to have their children tested since childhood is the best time to detect some of these blood signs.

However, diet is not the only cause of cardiovascular disease. Other factors include lack of exercise, high blood pressure, stress, age, smoking, overweight, and hormonal and genetic influences. Drinking too much coffee and alcohol also may be related.

If you have been given a clean bill of health by your doctor regarding these risk factors, my advice is to continue with your normal program of physical fitness and good eating habits.

Yogurt And Eggs

The next time you're planning to serve scrambled eggs for breakfast, brunch, lunch or dinner, team them with yogurt for an interesting flavor twist and a creamy texture.

To prepare four servings, beat 6 eggs, ½ cup plain yogurt and ½ teaspoon salt just until blended. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a skillet and add egg mixture. Cook over low heat, turning the egg mixture with a spatula as it begins to thicken; do not stir and do not overcook. For a more sophisticated flavor substitute orange or mandarin orange yogurt for plain yogurt.

Beef Brisket

When you are simmering a small fresh beef brisket, cover it with water and add salt, onion and celery leaves. Count on cooking it for 30 to 35 minutes per pound. Sliced thin, the cold brisket will make delicious sandwiches.

Don't let inflation rob you:

Fight Back!

Mayfair's Best Buys aren't just bargains-they're weapons

Everytime you make a really good buy, you're taking a good poke at inflation.

Since we went discount, everything at Mayfair is a good buy. But our Best Buys are really the best!

Best Buys are items where our buyers have been even shrewder than usual and bought at exceptionally low prices. We pass those savings right on to you.

Best Buys are also items where the manufacturers give us promotional allowances to give their products advertising space or special attention in the store. We pass those savings on to you also.

Combine Mayfair's weekly Best Buys with our thousands and thousands of regular discount prices and you have the reason why, week after week, month after month, food does cost less at Mayfair.

And we prove it with weekly price comparison surveys, using the official list of food items the U.S. Government uses to measure food price nationwide.

No other market does this--because other markets just don't have the kind of inflation-fighting low prices that Mayfair has.

He brings us together.

While taking some better-than-average steps forward toward success in life.

Your newspaper bursts alive each day from our presses -- put together by a whole troop of news people.

This youngster is the one who sees that you get it finally at your doorstep.

Ready to open and enjoy it all.

Your carrier is in business for himself.

A retail business of sorts. Buying his newspapers fresh from us. Selling them in turn to customers like you.

Making on-time deliveries, handling money, keeping records, and making a profit. Our youngster learns what it means to deal with the public and earn his own dollar.

Which seems to us a better-than-average preparation for a young person for responsible life ahead.

And explains why carriers usually are better-than-average students. Better-than-average at sports. Better-than-average.

Besides, year-round, doing a better-than-average job of bringing us together -- for which we extend a special thanks on this International Newspaper Carrier Day. Tell him for us, will you?

A Lesson for U.S. In Dreyfus Affair

The notices in both English and Spanish language versions, were mailed by the California State Department of Social Welfare. Local county welfare offices will continue to mail the payments until the end of this year.

The notices mailed with the October Medi-Cal card, emphasized that no person currently receiving public assistance would receive less than before. The state will continue to provide other services to qualified persons and will add to the Federal payment under certain circumstances.

Funds for the new Supplemental Security Income program will come from the general funds of the U.S. Treasury — personal taxes, 1894 France would be torn corporation taxes, or other by strife over the rights and taxes. Check will consist of wrongs of the case that at federal and state money, a times bordered on bitter, if basic federal grant, plus a bloodless civil war."

In its chronicle of tragedy, an early chapter is devoted to the Dreyfus Affair, a political-legal event that undermined the stability of France. Dreyfus was an army captain who was convicted of treason on what was later found to be false evidence.

Shirer writes: "For the next 12 years, France would be torn taxes. Check will consist of wrongs of the case that at federal and state money, a times bordered on bitter, if basic federal grant, plus a bloodless civil war."

The whole country seemed to be consumed by blind hatred and intolerance. It was hopelessly and hysterically divided between those, mainly on the Right, who believed Dreyfus guilty, and those, mainly on the Left, who over the years became convinced that he was innocent."

"Long before the end of the Affair, as the French called it, the question of the guilt of Dreyfus became almost lost in the melee, giving way to a fundamental conflict over Affaire, had given little attention to other pressing problems: the static economy, lagging social welfare, labor-management strife, the fall of the birth rate, foreign policy — and this at a moment when a new threat was rising beyond the Rhine from a unified, dynamic, militarist, and increasingly restless and beligerent Germany."

Presently, there is, of course, no modern American Dreyfus, and Watergate and the Agnew matter are far removed from rousing prejudices and passions to the extent experienced in France at the turn of the century. While our media at times has been overzealous in its willingness to print leaks and presume guilt, it has acted as a paragon of propriety when compared with the press in France of the Dreyfus period. Our people have been highly interested in and attentive to the Watergate hearings, and also to the Agnew matter, but they have not, as yet, risen to unreasoning emotional involvement in either situation.

Certainly, Watergate and Agnew present a far more volatile factual base than the Dreyfus Affair. Our current events are central to the government of the United States, and occupy a firm position in the mainstream of our political life. Why have we succeeded, thus far, in avoiding total politicization of the questions of guilt or innocence in these cases?

It should be noted that the parallel alluded to in this article is not that of an unjustly accused defendant, but of a national state of mind that overrides the requirements of justice because of political considerations. Public pre-conceptions of guilt or innocence could run either way: people could wrongly think a guilty man innocent every bit as easily as they could wrongly think an innocent man guilty.

The point is that while the public should be informed as fully and fairly as possible, it doesn't belong in the business of passing final judgments of guilt or innocence. That is a function of our

THE MARQUEE

By Barbara Bladen

Few contemporary actresses are as well loved and universally admired as Deborah Kerr. She became a household word in America through the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio when they signed her in 1946 after she'd been a big star already in England.

And then came "Tea and Sympathy" and a score of important films including "Edward My Son" (made when she was only 24 years old and her favorite role in which she begins as a young woman and grows into an aged, bitter, alcoholic old woman) during which time she lived in Southern California until 15 years ago.

But she's a frequent visitor to the United States. This time it's on business. Back on the legitimate stage for the first time since she toured in "Tea and Sympathy" in 1955 with a turn-of-the-century drama "The Day After The Fair," by Frank Harvey after a Thomas Hardy short story, "On The Western Circuit," from his collection, "Life's Little Ironies." It opens at the Curran Theater tonight for 15 performances after a six month run in London and an engagement in Denver and Los Angeles that ended Sunday.

She arrived with her husband author Peter Vieret only minutes before we met yesterday over champagne at the Huntington Hotel where she looked as fresh, youthful, gracious and sparkling as I'd remembered her through buckets of tears in countless films.

The Scottish born blonde (I'd imagined her a strawberry blonde) is trim and magnetic. I got caught up in the lift of her accent and the charm of her enthusiasm as she recounted the "fun" she had living and working in California for the studios.

"There had been other English actresses who came over during the war and were ruined. M-G-M bent over backwards to prevent that with me. I was never a pounder on desks and had a marvelous time working here. Being part of that studio was like belonging to an elite country club."

Her last film in the states was "The Arrangement" in 1966.

What brought her down from her Swiss mountaintop where she's been playing a more personal role, that of wife and mother for many years?

"It was a midnight matinee in London, a benefit to honor playwright Terence Rattigan who wrote "Separate Tables" and all the originals were to be in it, including Celia Johnson, Trevor Howard and my dear friend Wendy Hiller with whom I made my debut with in "Major Barbara." Terence had been knighted and I couldn't say no, although I was scared to death after an absence of 30 years on the London stage.

"Stage fright never gets better, you know, it only gets worse. It's the same with the best of them."

Furnishing for Center Delayed

Approval of interior furnishings for the new community center was put over a week by the Foster City Council.

There has been no unanimity of opinion about how the new center near East Hillsdale and Shell boulevards should be furnished.

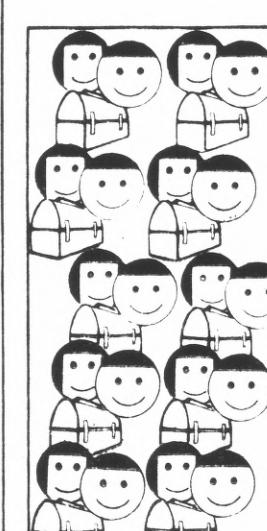

Single admissions and season memberships are available at B. Dalton Bookseller, 49 Stonestown Mall.

Bruno Holdup, Kidnap

Two robberies were reported last weekend to San Bruno police. In one, a young delivery man was lured on an apparently false delivery. The other incident involved a kidnaping.

Police said Ronald Eugene Oneto, a driver for the Jade Palace, 1711 El Camino Real, a Chinese restaurant, was delivering two dinners to an address on Hensley Ave., Saturday about 9 p.m.

Police said Oneto knocked on the door and, after receiving no answer, turned to leave. Moments later, he told police, he felt something hard in his back and a hand went into his pocket and removed his wallet.

Police said he lost $70 in cash and the two dinners.

In the other incident, police said Rafael Arrequin, 25, was waiting for a bus about 10:15 p.m. Saturday at El Camino Real and West Angus Ave. when an automobile pulled to the curb.

Police said Arrequin was pulled into the vehicle, three persons in the car, who struck and kicked several times and then thrown out of the car on El Camino Real at about Millbrae Ave., Millbrae.
